RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences — Research Triangle Park, NC
Postdoctoral Fellow; Advisor: Clarice R. Weinberg — 2018-present
Research topics: Familial risk and biomarkers associated with breast cancer incidence

- Investigating the role of serum iron biomarkers in breast cancer incidence
- Applied survival analysis and data visualization to develop new method to estimate familial aggregation of breast cancer age of onset
- Developed analysis plans to synthesize a priori approach to projects

University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill — Chapel Hill, NC
Graduate researcher; Advisor: Kari E. North — 2013-2018
Research topics: Infant anthropometric growth as 1) a factor associated with sociodemographic risk factors, 2) an exposure hypothesized to modify lipid levels in adolescence and 3) an effect modifier of the association between genetic risk variants and lipid levels.

- Estimated different patterns of infant growth and their association with lipid levels in adolescence with structural equation models, factor analysis, and non-linear random effects models.
- Documented all work with reproducible reports written in R, markdown and LaTeX; tracked script development with Git.

University of North Carolina, Center of Excellence for Eating Disorders (CEED) Chapel Hill, NC
Biostatistician 2005-2013

- Collaborated in the planning and interpretation of statistical analyses for research papers authored by faculty, post-doctoral fellows, graduate students and undergraduate students.
- Analyzed data with regression and structural equation models in SAS and R.
- Participated in manuscript writing process, which included the statistical methods sections, data visualizations and overall data integrity.
